

THE 2006 WASHINGTON AWARD

DR. HENRY PETROSKI, Aleksandar S. Vesic Professor of Civil Engineering and Professor of History at Duke University, has been selected as the recipient of the 2006 Washington Award for his promotion of the understanding of engineering through his writing.

Above, left to right: WSE Executive Director Tim Seeden, WSE President Dennis Lamont, Henry Petrosky, Christopher Burke, Roger Tillbrook, Gordon Stevens, and Nick Textor.

Left: Henry Petrosky and Carl Signeri of Exelon.

Below: WSE President Dennis Lamont presents the Washington Award to Henry Petrosky.

Above: Washington Award attendees talk to Future City winners about their presentations.

Right: Future City Competition winners from Franklin Middle School after receiving their awards from Henry Petrosky and Mike Hogan of World Book.

Below: Christopher Burke speaks to the assembled banquet attendees.

Awards and copies of Paperboy by Henry Petrosky await their recipients.

Mathcounts winners from Percy Julian Middle School in Oak Park. Left to right: Sharon Gunnell (teacher), Ben Mildenhall, Margarita Popova, Chris Ginet, and Evangeline Zachos.

Percy Julian Middle School Mathcounts winners receive their awards from Henry Petrosky and Mike Hogan of World Book.

Bridge Building Contents winners, from left to right:
Jennifer Carlos, St. Ignatius High School; William
Gunther, St. Ignatius High School; C.J. Hughes, Walter
Payton High School; Walter Blaurock, Evanston Township
High School; Michael Lucy, Evanston Township High School; Clara Bajzek, Tinley Park High School; Sasha Bajzek, Tinley Park High School.

Henry Petrosky and Future City winners from Central School.

Henry Petrosky examines the Future City entry from Central School and discusses it with the students who created it.

Christopher Burke addresses the attendees.

Glen Clayton (left) of the Illinois Concrete Pipe Association with Henry Petrosky.

Left to right: Dennis Lamont, Christopher Burke, and Henry Petrosky.

2006 Washington Award Winner Henry Petroski displays his plaque and medal next to a famous face.